ENTERTAINMENT A SUCCESS.

Talent Band Realizes $28.35 From First Entertainment.

A crowd of something like 350 listened to a delightful program of local talent assisted by Mr. King of Frederick and Messrs. Howell and Root from Medford. Miss Beck from the Conservatory of Music in Medford also gave a most highly appreciated piano solo. Vocal solos were rendered by Miss Kirkpatrick of the Talent school, Mrs. J. H. Fuller and Mr. Ed Cochran. Miss Marjorie Adamson, accompanied by Miss Helen Adamson, gave a very nice violin solo. The violin solo by Mr. Root and the selections by the Talent Orchestra were of a high class. The fine work done by the Talent Orchestra demonstrates the fact that Talent can furnish the entertainment at any time they can get together for the purpose. Genevieve, the educated mule—well, she was simply great from the very start and made quite a hit. We promised Chet and Everett that we would mention no names in connection with what was said about Genevieve, so no names will be given out at this time. The band boys, under the careful management of Mr. A. S. Ames, who has proven himself an excellent organizer, expect to give another program in the near future.

The band boys wish the Tidings to express their appreciation of the kindness of those who assisted.

Received Fine Hog.

Welborn Beeson has recently received one of the finest stock hogs in the valley. When Homer Beeson went to the Portland Live Stock Show in November Mr. Beeson commissioned him to purchase the best hog he found there and he obeyed orders, securing a pig from the famous "O. I. C." strain of Chester Whites. The pig purchased was one of the litter which won first premium.

Soon now it will be unanimously reported throughout the state that the political pot is beginning to bubble.

G. A. Morse Farm Is a Fine One

Through the courtesy of A. S. Ames the Tidings representative, in company with Frank Talcott of Iowa, visited the stock farm of G. A. Morse, near Talent, Friday. This farm is one of the best in the valley. In fact, it is a farm. The word ranch, so often used in the west, betokens more a large expanse of range and pasture rather than a body of land "farmed." The Morse place is farmed and farmed right. Not only is the land well tilled, but a large amount of stock is raised and the manure is scrupulously returned to the land.

The party was disappointed in not seeing the fine Guernseys which Mr. Morse has recently purchased and which it was expected would be at the farm, but which had not yet arrived. The character of those animals is shown by the fact that Mr. Morse refused to take $150 for a calf dropped since he purchased the cows and before their shipment.

At the head of Mr. Morse's herd is Maximo, a registered Guernsey brought to the valley by Dr. Bagley. Maximo was raised on the celebrated Jean Duluth stock farm, near Duluth, Minn., and is said to be the best bred Guernsey, as well as one of the best individuals in the west. He comes of a famous family. With him at the head and with the fine registered cows just purchased Mr. Morse has the nucleus of a herd of Guernseys which are sure to become noted on the coast. He has also a fine bunch of Jerseys and grades from which he is deriving a good revenue.

In horses one can pick his size, from the span of Shetlands driven by the children to registered Percherons weighing 1,800 pounds. Mr. Morse raises a number of colts every year and has sold one yearling for $500 and refused that price for others.

Mr. Morse is another farmer who finds money in hogs. He sold fifty this fall which brought him over $900. Twenty-two that were marketed in Ashland only lacked a few cents of bringing $20 each. Mr. Morse also has a large number of fine swine of all ages for future breeding and market.

HAS PHOENIX FOUND THE SAME?

The Answer is Found in the Straight-forward Statement of a Phoenix Resident.

We have been reading week after week in the local press of Ashland citizens who have been rid of distressing kidney and bladder troubles by Doan's Kidney Pills, and we have often wondered whether the same high opinion of this medicine is to be found in our neighboring towns. This frank and earnest statement by a well-known and respected resident of Phoenix will set this doubt at rest: H. Schurman, carpenter and builder, Phoenix, Ore., says: "Doan's Kidney Pills have been used in my home to good advantage and we have always found them exactly as represented. One of my family was in bad shape with kidney trouble and short use of Doan's Kidney Pills sets him right."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Paper Shilling of the Year 1775.

C. F. Clark of Grants Pass has a piece of Continental money which dates back to the birth of the republic and passed originally as one shilling, but during the few years following its issue probably suffered the same fate as the rest of the continental currency, which depreciated to such an extent that it passed at various times for but one cent on the dollar for coin. This particular piece of currency came to Mr. Clark through his grandmother, residing in Pennsylvania, and has been in the family for many years. It is 2 3/4 inches, printed on both sides, and bears the number 7091 in ink, and was signed in ink by Charles Jervis, Phil Kenser and T. Shoemaker. The printing on the front bears the legend: "One shilling. According to an act of General Assembly of Pennsylvania, passed in the fifteenth year of the reign of His Majesty George III, dated the fifth day of October, anno domini 1775."

The reverse side bears the imprint of the printer. Lucky is the man who has all his 1913 bills paid.

TALENT NEWS ITEMS.

Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Thomas are rejoicing over the arrival of a fine boy who put in his appearance at their home January 2. Mother and son are doing finely.

James Murray, the father of Mrs. Peter Vandersluis, has been ill with the grippe the past few days.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the M. E. church met with Mrs. C. D. Burman Thursday afternoon.

A. S. Ames, Peter Vandersluis and Dr. W. R. Bagley were Medford business visitors Friday.

Mr. Tryer of the Talent Hardware Company was at Medford a few days ago and signed up for the agency of the Rumley Products Company, one of the largest manufacturers of Tractors, gas engines, etc., in the country.

There are quite a number of people in and around Talent talking of building the coming season. Indications are that improvements are going to exceed those of several years past.

The city fathers hold their first meeting on next Tuesday evening.

The Usual Rule Is Reversed

Seattle, Wash.—Monthly alimony, a substantial amount of real property and the costs of the suit were awarded to August Scheckart by Judge Mitchell Gilliam in a divorce action brought by Scheckart's wife, Elizabeth, in which the husband did not ask for alimony or for anything except a refusal of the divorce.

Scheckart is 66 years old and his wife a little younger. They have four grown children.

The wife's complaint alleges that Scheckart was drunken and cruel, and the children all sided with her. Scheckart, however, brought as witnesses his next door neighbors and people who have known him for years, who convinced the court that the old man was a good citizen.

The wife owns property valued at from $20,000 to $30,000. The husband was awarded half of this.

More Co-operative Creameries Needed.

Portland Telegram: There is to be a co-operative creamery in or near Klamath Falls. Dairying is a comparatively newly developed industry in that section, and while it is assuming proportions of considerable value the dairymen do not propose that outsiders shall take the cream. This is not a joke, but most sensible fact—one of those commonplace, let's-help-ourselves sort of facts that count like everything in the welfare of a community.

There is opportunity for a considerable increase in the number of co-operative dairies in the state of Oregon, and more especially in the western part of the commonwealth. There is room for quite a number of them within striking distance of Portland, and every one of them would find this city a reliable and profitable market. There is hardly any line of business that is more inviting for co-operative enterprise.

Initiative, good sense and a little enterprise are all that are needed in any dairying community to make a modest beginning. Properly managed and the returns to the farmers that are interested will be the full value of their product less the cost of management which has been demonstrated again and again to be more than the farmer gets where his cream is sold on the market.

The co-operative creamery is a better industrial builder than the other method of disposing of the dairy product. To maintain it there must be enough dairying in the community pledged to its support to insure a reliable cream supply. This in itself means a stiffening in the dairy business, as the market experts would say, and as the business succeeds the area of dairy activity will widen. The tendency will be to get better stock, better milk and butter producers, and following that another result will be better cultivation of the farms. The creamery business is but one form of co-operation among farmers, but it may be said that it is the most practicable.

"Supposing I decided to let you have the money, how do I know that I shall get it back at the time you mention?" said Spiffkins.

"I promise it, my boy, on the word of a gentleman," replied Biffkins.

"Ah, in that case I may think better of it. Come round this evening and bring him with you."—Princeton Tiger.

It has been demonstrated that over-grazed stock ranges on the national forests can be brought back to use under a system of regulated grazing faster than if they are left unused.
